Greetings!

Welcome to the Spring 2006 issue of Casket Works! Inside this issue, you'll find lots of new products that we've feverishly been working away on. Take a look; I'm sure you'll find something that you just can't live without.

Can't find what you're looking for here in Casket Works? Hop on over to reaper-mini.com and take a look in our online store. There you can find literally hundreds of miniatures that don't appear here in Casket Works. Not only that, you can order all the bits and pieces your heart desires for customizing your own minis. Need a set of fairy wings for your dire boar? Reapermini.com can fix you up!

Reaper Con '06 is coming up in about 6 weeks from now in May. If you aren't reading this until after May of 2006, well, you missed out. But we'll be doing it again in May of 2007, so make sure you're here! Regardless, we'll have a full post-Reaper Con report in the next Casket Works.

Drop us a line and let us know how we're doing here at Casket Works. Bryan's been working his gnomish butt off to get this thing done, and I think he deserves a standing ovation for his efforts.

See you next time!

Ron

My wife and I both like Peanut butter & banana sandwiches. Except she puts Miracle Whip in hers. We've been married for 10 years, and I still don't understand that.

Sometimes you just want to try something new. This issue, we're trying out a few things that I hope you all will like. If you do, pop in to our message boards (reapermini.com/forum) and let us know.

I'm not going to put Miracle Whip on my Peanut Butter sandwiches though.

Oh, and to my wife - I love you anyway, even if you are weird. Happy 10th Anniversary!

Bryan

On the Cover: Sven Bybee's incredible cover for our upcoming book, Nefsokar: People of the Desert Sand. Got Mummy?

SWAG!

You know all those proofs of purchase you have been saving up? You can trade those in for cool stuff!

Keychain: Reaper or CAV logo = 10

Window Sticker = 35

Black T Shirt (Reaper, CAV, or Sophie designs)

Sizes: M, L, XL, 2XL, 3XL, 4XL = 40

Cap: Reaper, Warlord, or CAV logo = 50

Tote Bag = 60

For details, visit

www.reapermini.com/swag

But there's more!

In the next few months, Reaper will be introducing new T-Shirts, Keychains and more! Keep your eyes peeled!

This March we learned of the passing of legendary sculptor Dennis Mize. Dennis is probably best known for his years of work at Ral Partha where his technical quality and eye for detail set the standard for sculpting that still exists to this day.

We were fortunate enough to have Dennis do occasional work with us for a few brief years, and we consider ourselves lucky to have been able to work with such a generous person and talented artist. He will be missed.

More Dragon-y Goodness!

There's not room here to do it justice, but we also have a full-color movie of our newest Sandra Garrity Dragon at www.reapermini.com/misc/10017.mov

Check it out!

Of course, there's always more dragons on the horizon - later this year watch these pages or our website to see sneak-peeks of Nar'kasihe - The Dragon Queen!

TOP TEN REASONS TO START YOUR OWN CULT

10. Group rates on health insurance.
9. You'll never have to put up with people who disagree. Simply excommunicate them.
8. You'll finally get the respect you deserve.
7. A chance to exclude all those people in high school that were too cool for you.
6. You can sleep in on Sunday.
5. Looks great on your resumé.
4. Government raids almost never happen.
3. It beats joining the Columbia Record Club.
2. Hymns in your own praise.
1. Instantly go from fry cook at McBurgers to Supreme Being!

THE MAJOR GEMS

The three colored circles in the top center are called the Gems. The gems show the most important information you will need to know when deciding if you want to pick up a new blister. Who it fights for - top gem. What role it plays - bottom left. What its affiliation is - good, neutral, or evil - bottom right.

THE SHIELDS

Just to the left and right of the top Gem are two shields. The one on the left shows you how fast the Model is. The one on the right shows you how many hits it can take before it dies.

THE MINOR GEMS

Six more circles give you a bit more game data. In the left cluster of three you get: How hard it hits in hand-to-hand - top, how good of a spellcaster it is - bottom left, and how good of an archer it is - bottom right. The right cluster of three is: much defense it has - top, how magically resistant it is - bottom left, and how courageous and disciplined it is - bottom right. What is the little star? If you see a small bronze star, the Model is Unique. That means it's a very special Model in its army, one of a kind.

So what's good? The bigger the number, the better.

PLAY

So what is a game like?

Hand to Hand Combat - We call it Close Combat in Warlord. You roll the die. You add your hand-to-hand strength, called MAV (Melee Attack Value), the number in the top minor gem on the left. Judas has a 5 x3. That means he adds 5 to the dice roll and can attack THREE TIMES! Ok, so what is the target number? The DV (Defense Value) of the opponent's model, which is the top minor gem on the right.

Shooting - Ranged Combat is resolved pretty much the same way. You add the RAV (Ranged Attack Value), the number in the bottom right minor gem in the left cluster (Judas has no Ranged Ability and has a "-" there). What is the target number? The opponent's DV once again.

The target number? Not DV. Magic is a little different from hacking with an axe or shooting a crossbow. MD (Magic Defense), the number in the bottom left gem in the right cluster, is used for the target number when casting most spells. Some spells are not cast at a target, in that case, the target number is 10.

There are a few modifiers that can give you bonuses and penalties, but these are all written down on the quick reference sheet you can find in the back of the Warlord rulebook and every Army Book.

Moving Around - Every card has a Mov (Movement) rating (the shield on the left). You move that many inches per Action. You can move zero, once, or twice in an Action phase.

Wait, you said Move Twice?

Yes indeed. Warlord is very fluid. You have a two stage Turn with every Model. We call them Non-Combat Actions and Combat Actions. You can take two Non-Combat Actions every Turn (like Movement) or you can replace one of those with a Combat Action. What order you do it in is up to you. Want to shoot arrows, then charge in with your sword-and-shield guys? Sure. Soften up the foe with a powerful spell and then pepper them with arrows? Why not. Just remember, your opponent can do the same when it is their turn, not to mention, strike back. Oh, no you can't do two Combat Actions in a turn. Your guys are good, but they're not that good.

The Defender Strikes Back

Defensive Strikes are a major part of R.A.G.E. games. No more sitting around or going and getting a drink as your opponent beats on you during her turn. You get to strike back (we call them Defensive Strikes). You arrive in the game from the first dice roll to the last dice roll, slugging it out for the fate of your army.

WARLORD

WHAT IS WARLORD

Warlord is many things. First and foremost, it is a line of Heroic Scale fantasy themed pewter miniatures for use in tabletop games. Players of popular fantasy RPGs have been using Reaper Miniatures as their company of choice for their paladins, rangers, fighters, wizards, clerics, and rogues for over a decade. Warlord presents today's players with an edgy, gritty look that suits the thematic feel of some of the current Fantasy Role-Playing Games present on the market.

Warlord is also a line of high quality, highly detailed, and dynamic collectable figures for painters. Whether an army painter focused on speed painting, a casual painter looking for a challenge, a new painter entering the hobby, or a world-class award-winning painter, Warlord has proven itself time and again as a top line of choice.

In 2005 Reaper Miniatures launched Warlord as a brand new, fast-paced, and entertaining miniatures game set in a fantasy setting. Warlord figures are already known and loved - now they can be used in long running campaigns or Saturday afternoon dice-fests as players battle each other across the War-Torn fantasy realm of Taltos. With fully customizable armies and tactics, but easy to learn rules, Warlord is perfect for both experienced and novice wargame players.

THE REAPER ADVENTURE GAME ENGINE

Warlord is the first game to use the Reaper Adventure Game Engine (R.A.G.E. for short). As a master system, R.A.G.E. allows you to learn a few basic rules and then take this knowledge with you from game setting to game setting. One system for many games means that you spend less time learning and relearning rules and more time playing and painting.

KEY FEATURES OF RAGE

- ~ Easy mechanics. Roll one ten-sided dice. Add or subtract modifiers. Meet or exceed a target number. All target numbers and modifiers fit on a one page quick glance sheet or are printed on the figure's Data Card.

- ~ Fluid play. A Turn is divided into 2 Actions per Model. The order and what actions are conducted are fully in your control. Each setting will have one or two new Actions specific to its genre, but the rest of the Actions remain the same from game to game.

- ~ Strategy and Tactics. You are in control of not only the rolling of dice and moving of figures, but also general force creation and preparing for the surprises of combat against other players.

- ~ Data Cards. All information relevant to a Model's game related mechanics easily fit on a standard poker card sized Data Card. As more powerful Models are damaged, their fighting ability will degrade until they are removed from play.

- ~ Faction or Freelance Play. All R.A.G.E. games will feature various colorful factions and armies that you can choose from. There will also be the ability to portray a Freelance force that allows you to pick and choose from all the Models in the line to custom tailor your force. Faction forces gain special powers and abilities; Freelance forces gain ultimate customization freedom. The end result is more options and more fun for you.

LEARN THE BASICS

The basic mechanic of Warlord is:

Roll one ten-sided die, add/subtract some numbers, and see if you equal or exceed a target number. The best part is these numbers you need are all already written down for you. If the target number is not written down, it is 10.

THE HALO

If you have ever looked at a Warlord blister or data card, you have already seen the Halo. The Halo helps you pick Models as they hang on a rack, even though you may never have seen its game stats before.

THE FACTIONS

Now to talk a bit about each army. First we will start with all the Good armies, then the Neutral armies, and finally, the Evil armies. Each section will be followed by pictures of every model available at the time this went to press. In the corner of each picture, you will see the icons from the Halo to help you organize and select your force!

THE FORCES OF GOOD

The Forces of good value life, freedom, and justice. They are personified in Taltos by the Elves, the Crusaders, and the Dwarves. Although they all work to thwart the darker forces destroying and enslaving the land, they often come to blows against each other, as ideologies clash.

ELVES

The courts of the northern forests have ignored the pleas for aid as the Prince of Almirithil watched the horrors around them grow. Now, Prince Danithal has mustered the strongest and noblest of his people from across Adon to serve him and help restore the realm. With their natural gifts and the protection of the very land that they serve, the elves of Almirithil stand strong, proud, and ready to face the challenge of taming the beasts that have infested Taltos. Beautiful and shadowy, the elves are well trained and well prepared for the battles ahead, and Prince Danithal will not fail in his duty to his land and his people.

CRUSADERS

Long have the Knights of the Temple guarded the Chroniclers at Denelspire. Oathbound to remain steadfast guardians and take no action, they watched as evil festered and grew at their doorstep. Denelspire was invaded, and Duke Gerard returned to retake the Citadel and make the land safe for the people once more. Now the guardians of Denelspire have become the instrument of the heavens, destined to rout the evil that has permeated the land. By their faith and by their swords they will return stability to Taltos, for they have taken an oath to serve peace, and Gerard has shown that peace comes only after the war has been won.

DWARVES

The halls of Aizen Krah! have known the hymns of battle since the first stone was carved. This newly hewn fortress is the only defense between Taltos and the monsters of Monglash. King Thorgram Grimsteel knows that his people need to be strong, like the foundations of the very mountains themselves, or they will fall. The Dwarves have fought to build the citadel, and will fight to defend it, for their new home is not just a cave in the hills, but the bastion of freedom that guards the civilized lands from evils they cannot face. King Thorgram will take the fight to his enemies and ensure the legacy of his heirs.

THE NEUTRAL FORCES

The neutral armies have varied agendas, but their self serving forms of justice bring them together. From all sides of Taltos these outsiders strive to influence the land, and conquer it for their people.

MERCENARIES

Orba Sinhan controls the ports, and he has the contacts with some of the best warriors in the land. He has his own agenda, however, and the unrest in Taltos is not helping. To protect his dark secret and fulfill his oath, Orba must bring peace to Taltos, and he has the money to raise the army that can do exactly that.

REVEN

Beyond the Ash Mountains a storm is building. Varaug leads the "Akhphakh Khoalaylan" or "Great Reven" - an alliance of the tribes of the Orcs, Goblins, Ogres and Trolls scattered throughout the Monglash Steppes. The injustices against the hordes of Monglash must be repaid, and Varaug stands ready to exact the debt owed in blood. He alone wields the power of the Khakhan, the Chief of Chiefs, and stands at the front of the battle, ready to lead his people into Taltos to take what they have long been denied. The foundations of the cities of Taltos will shatter beneath the boots of the Monglash tribes.

REPTUS

The Mongkohn have learned the mysteries of existence and have spent centuries contemplating the paths of harmony and of conflict. The outside world has always been ignorant of the noble culture of the Jade Empire but the innocent years of the past have long gone. The outside world has come in - interlopers, trespassers and worse. Khong-To has now left the Path of Harmony, determined to preserve his people and their freedom once and for all. The cycles of nature have come around - the time of peace and meditation is over. The time for war has begun, and only through turbulence will calm return to the surface of the Pool of Life once more.

NEFSOKAR

The almost-forgotten god Sokar has awakened from his great sleep. He has remembered the oaths of the warriors of ages past that bound their souls to serve him throughout eternity. Sokar has summoned his greatest servants back from across the Styx. Khufu, the greatest priest-king of the Sokari, again leads his people into the Mehet Heseep - the Northern Gardens - where Sokar will rule again. Together with the Khamsin, a tribe that has never forgotten the ways of Sokar, Khufu will restore the cities of old, recover the plundered temples of his people, and repay the injuries of the outsiders to his Kingdom.

THE FORCES OF EVIL

Dark powers and creatures call Taltos home as well, and these forces are organized for war. Dark energy, diabolism, and greed call out to those with the strength to try to take hold of the land, and the will to strangle it from the grasp of its guardians.

OVERLORDS

The Inquisitors of Malvernus have taken an interest in the city of Craclaw, and the Overlords court their deadly power. The Overlords desire control and power - enough to sacrifice anything, even their own lives, to gain power that none can withstand. Ashkrypt, an Overlord and Lich, will use the Inquisitors to get what he wants, then discard them, as he does with the people of Craclaw. There is power to be taken in Taltos, and the Overlords know the strengths and weaknesses of those who oppose them. They will lead the army that will control the people of the land, and will brook no opposition.

DARKSPAWN

Though once of Elven stock, the Isiri have twisted themselves with the aid of their demon lords and are elves no more. Led by the Witch Queen and her demonic aides, the Darkspawn have begun a campaign against the surface world. Filling their cups with the spoils of war - pain, misery, suffering, death, and fear - the Isiri will give the bounty they reap to the dark lords they serve. The people of Taltos know fear, but those who are captured by the Isiri come to truly know pain. Death is the only escape from the cruel fate these fiends have readied for all who will not bow to them.

NECROPOLIS

The energies of the ancient Necropolis of Thule have drawn necromancers, the undead, and those questing for power for centuries. Judas Bloodspire, vampire lord and Anointed of Hars, has seized control of the Font of Power contained within Thule, and from there plans to gather more souls and more strength, waiting for the day of the Anointing. Until then, the lands of the living will know terror as only The Hunt can bring.

GREAT

A Name Whispered by Heroes, and spoken only by fools.

A bloody tale told to frighten children in the night.

A terrible Legend no one thought could be true.
Until Now . . .

GAUTH

16" Wingspan & 12" Tall    Sculpted by Jim Johnson
Solid Pewter    Product Number 10006
$79.99

The Noxious green gas of his breath fingers in the air as he leaves the crumbling temple to feast upon the sacrifice.

9" Long & 8" Tall
Solid Pewter

VIRIDIUS

Sculpted by Jason Wiebe
Product Number
10021
$79.99

Woe unto the foolish being who seeks to usurp him of his claim.

VEROCITHRAX

10" Tall
Solid Pewter

Some foolish mage had discovered his true name and summoned him to Adon.

It was an insult that the abyssal dragon would not
--could not-- overlook.

Sculpted by Werner Klocke
Product Number
10018

MARTHRAINGIL

12" Wingspan & 9" Tall
Solid Pewter

And with a gesture, the bones of the long dead dragon rose silently into the rank, ashen air.
The mass of ribs, femurs and vertebrae at first were surrounded by a liquid purple glow which faded into a tarnished blue as the spell took shape.
